Re: Divine Strake

Across the United States, increasing numbers of citizens are learning about Divine Strake and reacting to this unjust, dangerous and irrational proposed military experiment with anger, bemusement and frustration. We believe that the only way to stop Divine Strake is by nationwide citizen action. However, in the absence of an established activist framework to provide citizens concerned and willing to stop Divine Strake with assistance, guidance and strategic advice, citizens are struggling to participate democratically to effect positive change. That is why we are sponsoring a new support network called Citizens Against Divine Strake.

Citizens Against Divine Strake, or CADS, is a decentralized organization that will consist of several regional chapters and has a single-purpose: convincing the United States government to permanently scrap plans for the Divine Strake test.

The staff of StopDivineStrake.com and its allies will provide assistance, guidance, strategic advice, and other support to CADS chapters for their efforts.

Citizens looking to help stop Divine Strake can become a member of their regional chapter. For more details, visit <http://www.stopdivinestrike.com/cads.html>
